

Decanter Reviews - August 2010

Château du Seuil, Graves Blanc 2007

★★★ (16)

Barrel-fermented Sémillon makes up 60% of the blend. A waxy and rich nose, but the palate is restrained, despite the bright fruit. Moderate concentration, effortless elegance and a refined, long finish. 2010–2018. £12.99 (2005); Vir

Château L'Avocat, Graves Blanc 2007

★★★ (16)

A blend of barrel-aged Sémillon, Sauvignon Blanc and Sauvignon Gris gives lemon and fresh-cut grass on the nose, with a background of quite toasty nutty oak. On the palate, powerful and mouthwatering, with hints of tropical nectarine and lychee constrained by th acidity. 2010–2018. J&B

« Value Claret » -Château du Seuil Rouge 2006 - Bronze Medal

Château du Seuil, Graves 2006

Deep ruby colour. Fresh cherry and forest fruits on the nose, supported by toasty oak and subtle earthy aromas. Intriguing nose. Pleasant, bold fruit on the palate. Firm tannic structure and well balanced. Youthful but will develop nicely. £15.38; MCW
