Chateau du Seuil Graves Red 2006

Classic Graves. Blackcurrant and red cherry, licorice, pencil, a touch of earthiness and dried herb. It's medium bodied, evenly weighted with fine grained tannin and pleasing dryness – although there's ample fruit tucked into its lithe frame. Dry finish. Charm and balance. On a personal level, this falls into the style category of 'wines I really enjoy drinking'. Ready to go now, though should keep for a good few years.
